

AFRICA DAY 2017

Stories from Africa's future

SPEAKERS

Tendesi Stella Makunike

is the global chief human resources officer for the Pacific Cigarette Company in Zimbabwe. She has been a member of the International Advisory Board of USB-ED since 2014 and has 20 years of experience in human resources.

Professor Obiora Ike

director: Catholic Institute for Development, Justice and Peace in Nigeria, has lectured Social and Economic Ethics and African Studies in Nigeria, Germany and the Netherlands. He is a development consultant, founder of NGOs, and partner of 30 international development and aid agencies.

Dr Karabo Mokobocho-Mohlakoana

was a regional director at the Institute of Development Management (IDM) in Botswana and Swaziland, and then joined the Lesotho College of Education as rector at the beginning of 2016.

Isaac Nkama

is an expert in cross-cultural affairs and international business strategy. He assists major corporations to formulate strategy to expand across Africa. He was director of Business Development – Africa for a top aircraft manufacturer and vice-chairman of AMD (Aerospace, Maritime and Defence Industries Association).

Kenneth Molosi

is the CEO of EOH Consulting in Botswana, a leading management consulting firm that has developed regional capability in deploying business consulting, technology and managed services.

Khutso Evelyn Modiselle

an advocate of visionary leadership and former secretary general of the Students' Representative Council of the University of Cape Town, is pursuing her LLB degree and steering the transformation agenda at the University. She is the co-founder of the African Union Club.

Eddy Jolicoeur

holds degrees from the Universities of Kent and Surrey. His career spanned the sugar industry from Deep River Beau Champ, to Mon Desert Alma, and Medine. Thereafter he held positions in human resources, latterly as head of Human Resources for Mauritius Commercial Bank.

Dr Wanjiku Muiruri-Mwagiru

is a visiting scholar at the University of California and research fellow at Oxford University's Centre for Cross-cultural Research. She heads Nairobi University's Geography Department, is a presenter for Voice of Kenya, and is involved in UNEP, UNESCO and Commonwealth Secretariat initiatives.